The Omnibus Reconciliation Act of 1993 prohibits you from deducting for federal income tax purposes beginning January 1, 1994, the portion of your membership dues which are allocable to the lobbying and political activities of California MBA. California MBA reasonably estimates that 30% of your membership dues are allocable to these expenditures for California MBA's fiscal year 2016-2017. Accordingly, California MBA estimates that 70% of your membership dues are deductible as a business expense, regardless of when the dues were actually paid. You may wish to seek further advice on this law from your attorney or tax advisor.
